Criminologist Gives Opinion On Racial Feud

Californian Says Crisis Is Test of Democratic System

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "The current racial crisis is not a crisis of the Negro, or of the conservative, or of the reactionary white. It is a crisis of the American people and the democratic way of life," says criminologist Joseph D. Lohman.

Dr. Lohman, dean of the School of Criminology of the University of California at Berkeley, told the National Urban League on Monday that Negroes make up 10 per cent of the nation's population and yet account for 20 per cent of juvenile delinquency.

"Negro youth are exposed to the evil effect of being locked from cultural assimilation in our cities," said Lohman, "and their crime is the abortive fruit of our failure. We are at a critical juncture in American community development."

Nelson C. Jackson of New York, associate executive director of the league said earlier that the effects of discrimination are becoming intensified as cities grow.

Jackson estimated that the unemployment rate is twice as high among Negroes as that of the nation in general. About 50 per cent of Negroes between 16 and 21 are not working, he said, and more than two-thirds of Negroes who do have jobs are grouped in five unskilled and semi-skilled job classifications. He did not list them.

"Part of this," Jackson said, "is because fair employment policies in the national offices of businesses and unions have not trickled down to the local level for positive action."

The league is a social work agency which attempts to improve conditions for the urban Negro.

Other major problems cited by Jackson include discrimination in housing and education. He said eight million Negro students per year drop out of high school, due to "lack of incentive and a limited career range beyond high school."

Two Arrested After Robbery At Medina

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — A few minutes after $6,095 was taken from a branch of the Akron Savings & Loan Co. Monday, police recovered the money and arrested two men from Portsmouth.

Harold Thompson, 34, a barber, and Lawrence Rollins, 29, an ex-convict, were arrested early today. Both were charged with bank robbery.

Thompson waived a hearing but Rollins asked for a preliminary hearing, which was set for Aug. 7. Both were held in the Cuyahoga County jail in lieu of $25,000 bond each.

Police said Thompson, armed with a .32-caliber pistol, entered the bank Monday about 2:40 p.m. while Rollins remained in a car parked across from the shopping center in the north end of Medina.

Thompson held two tellers at gunpoint, police said, while the manager was forced to scoop the money into a paper bag. As soon as Thompson left the building, the bank employees sounded an alarm.

It was heard by patrolman Arnold Siegfried, who was nearby in a cruiser. He rushed to the scene and saw Thompson running into the car. Siegfried signaled another cruiser for aid as he pursued the getaway car.

As the second cruiser, driven by Sgt. Merle Frederick, drove up, Siegfried pulled his car in front of the fleeing auto and blocked its path. The two men surrendered meekly.

'Speedy' Patrolman Joins Athens Post

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — A man with the right name for the job is the newest addition to the Athens post of the State Highway Patrol. He's Robert A. Speedy, who's ready to start earning his living by chasing his namesakes.

Speedy, a Navy veteran from New Somerset, graduated from the State Highway Patrol Academy on July 1.

MANGLED BY BEAR, MAY LOSE HAND — Lynn Seely, 4, is comforted by her mother, Mrs. Ivy Seely, in a hospital after her right hand and forearm were badly mangled by a Himalayan bear at a circus in Santa Susana, Calif. Lynn put her hand through the bars of the bear's cage and the bear attacked. Mrs. Seely tried to pull her daughter free but the bear held on until a bystander beat it with a piece of pipe. Lynn's index finger was bitten off, tendons of all fingers and muscles of forearm chewed. Doctors say she may lose her hand.

U.S. Soldier, S. Korean Policeman Killed

Four Red Soldiers Die In Korea Clash

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — U. S. Army patrols and South Korean national police hunted down and killed four North Korean soldiers today six miles south of the demilitarized zone.

An American soldier and a

South Korean police officer also lost their lives in the grassy river bottomland south of the Imjin River near Dangdong-ri.

Col. George Creel, the U.N. Command spokesman who confirmed the four North Koreans were dead, said they could be part of the same raiding patrol which machine-gunned a 1st Cavalry Division jeep Monday, killing two U.S. soldiers and wounding another on their way to guard duty in the demilitarized zone.

There also was speculation the four North Koreans killed today were agents bound on a mission of violent espionage. They carried automatic weapons and hand grenades.

The first North Koreans were gunned down about 9 a.m. It was in this clash that a soldier of the U.S. 7th Infantry Division and the Korean police officer died.

At about 4 p.m., the other two North Koreans were surrounded in deep grass west of the road to Panmunjom and about a mile south of Freedom Bridge.

While an American Army helicopter hovered overhead, about 50 national policemen and half a dozen U.S. soldiers closed in. Two hand grenade explosions were heard, leading to speculation the agents took their own lives.

Associated Press photographer Kim Chong-kil and reporter An Mu-hun arrived on the spot shortly before the shooting started this afternoon. They interviewed the husband of an old woman who was held captive by the four Communists.

Yang Chon Soon, 52, was out collecting mushrooms in the bushy area where the grass is head high. Suddenly someone grabbed her by the wrist and demanded: "Why are you here? This is a firing range. Do you

Rail Unions Make New Offer To Corporations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators working on ways to settle the rail-labor dispute say they are encouraged by a union official's announcement that the brotherhoods have submitted a new proposal to the railroads.

L. J. Wagner, president of the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, told the Senate Commerce Committee the new offer was made Saturday in the reopened bargaining session.

He said no reply had come from the carriers and said he didn't believe they had had time to present one.

However, Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads, was at the hearing and when asked by a reporter about Wagner's statement, he said: "I have heard about nothing new that amounts to anything."

The railroads and unions resumed Labor Department bargaining sessions Friday under prodding from legislators who expressed fears that Congress might set a dangerous pattern by stepping into the dispute.

10 Rescued From Ruins Of Earthquake

Trapped for 80 Hours In Rubble of Skopje, Yugoslavia

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Dynamite squads spelled the final doom today of what remained of pestilence-threatened Skopje, 90 per cent of which was ripped beyond repair by Friday's earthquake.

Rescue crews dug 10 more persons from the rubble before the blasting began Monday night. Trapped for more than 80 hours, they were located by a tiny microphone inserted into the ruins.

In case there were more survivors, the dynamite charges were planted only in buildings where no one could be alive.

The government hurried to level this once bustling city of 270,000. Fear of a typhus outbreak left no choice.

The government promised that Skopje, capital of Yugoslav Macedonia, will rise again. Geologists are to decide whether the present, centuries-old site is safe for rebuilding or whether survivors should begin life anew at another location.

Dynamite blew apart cracked buildings checked first for signs of life with the microphone, so sensitive it can pick up the sound of a man breathing.

The count of dead stood near 1,000. Hundreds more bodies were believed buried in acres of ruins.

Two of the bodies recovered were presumed to be those of U.S. Air Force Sgt. Harold R. Stacy of Gouverneur, N.Y., and his German wife.

Other Americans known to have been in Skopje escaped.

Under government orders, 150,000 residents had left by Monday night.

Crews labored in an almost unbearable stench of the dead and broken sewers. A heat wave and a water shortage compounded the atmosphere of nausea.

The government predicted that once a fleet of trucks, tractors, bulldozers and earthmovers rolled

Woman, 74, Victim Of Con Artists

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — One of the oldest confidence games in the swindler's arsenal has bilked a 74-year-old Dayton woman of $4,500 in cash and $1,000 in jewelry.

An odd twist to Monday's incident was a jaywalking citation that could provide the best clue to the culprits.

Clara B. Davis, the victim, told police this story:

She struck up a conversation with a woman in a Dayton bank, regarding a supposed search by the stranger for someone to look after her elderly mother. They walked out and as they talked at a busy intersection another woman approached.

The second stranger told of having found $20,000 in a paper bag. Mrs. Davis was talked into putting up "good faith" money preparatory to being cut in for a share of the windfall.

Mrs. Davis was accommodating. She took the two women to her home, where she had a strongbox of valuables. When she couldn't find the key she and her "friends" went to a key shop to have one made.

Unsuccessful at one key shop, they headed for another—and a policeman issued the victim and one of the other women tickets for jaywalking.

They got the key made at another shop and went to the bank again, where Mrs. Davis went to draw out some cash. The teller vainly advised her not to.

She turned the cash and valuables over to the women and as instructed, waited in a telephone booth for their return.

They didn't return.

Rusk's Moscow Talks Not Expected to Lead To Summit Meeting

SAVED AFTER 55 HOURS IN QUAKE RUINS—Three rescue workers carry unconscious Mrs. Suzanne Jacquemart between them as they rush to put her on a stretcher after her dramatic rescue July 28. Rescue workers found her entombed in the ruins of the Hotel Macedonia in Skopje, Yugoslavia. She had been trapped there for 55 hours since earthquake that destroyed hotel dropped her from ground floor room to basement. Rescuers later reached her husband Jean.

Ratification of Tests Pact Seen

Humphrey Says U.S. Public Favors Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate have killed any chance for a bipartisan display at the formal signing of the limited nuclear test ban treaty in Moscow.

Minority leader Everett M. Dirksen said he had not been invited to accompany Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the ceremonial trip and would not go if he were. Rusk visited with the Illinois Senator briefly Monday but Dirksen said they did not discuss the matter.

"I feel that I should not go even if I were invited because acceptance would leave the implication that I approved of the treaty without knowing fully the effects it will have," Dirksen said.

Dirksen told an informal news conference Monday that the White House suggested that he rejected a conference of leaders of both parties before President Kennedy's Friday night television-radio speech on the treaty, which would ban all except underground tests.

Sen. Burke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee and senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview he could not accept an invitation to go to Moscow for the signing ceremony, expected to be held next week.

"I think it would be highly improper for me to go in view of the fact that I have not decided whether I will support or oppose

Abandonment Of Bus Line Planned

Tri-City Transit, Inc., with main offices in Canton, has announced that it is taking preliminary steps to abandon service between Salem and Louisville, which also will affect Alliance, Sebring, Beloit and Damascus.

Curtis M. Shetler, vice president of the company, stated that the company can no longer afford to render service to the people of Salem because it is not taking in enough money on the line to meet costs.

He said that the company announced three or four years ago that it would continue to run the service into Salem as long as the people made it profitable. The buses succeeded the old Stark Electric interurbans 20 years ago.

Application has been filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to abandon the service.

Cow, Pony Killed On Highways

Traffic Mishaps Leave 3 Injured

Three persons received minor injuries and a pony and a cow were killed in seven district traffic accidents since last Monday morning, the Lisbon post of the State Highway Patrol reports.

Joseph Gallo, 19, of 244 Walnut St., Leetonia, suffered a laceration over the left eye and William Dalrymple, 57, of Washingtonville had contusions of the head after a two-car mishap Monday at 4:40 p.m. on Alternate Route 14, one mile west of Columbiana.

Gallo's car and another driven by Harry Spear, 52, of Washingtonville collided when the former's auto skidded left of center while passing, striking Spears. Dalrymple was a passenger in Spear's car. Neither men required treatment.

Trucker's Wife Hurt
A truck overturned on Route 170 near Unity Monday at 3:40 p.m., injuring the driver's wife, Mrs. Grace Walker, 52, of Pulaski, Pa.

The patrol said Willis Walker, the truck driver, applied his brakes as he came behind a slower moving vehicle. The van went off the right side of the road and turned over. The woman was treated at Youngstown North Side Hospital and released.

A valuable Jersey cow and a pony were killed in two separate area mishaps.

A cow, owned by Elden Groves of RD, Salem, was struck and killed as it crossed Alternate Route 14, east of Salem. The patrol said the animal walked out in front of a car operated by Calvin Fickes, 21, of Somer St., Leetonia.

A pony, owned by Eugene Crowl, of RD 1, Columbiana, figured in a two-part highway mishap this morning at 3:15 on Route 7, three-tenths of a mile north of Columbiana.

A truck driven by Mike Matil, 30, of Butler, Pa., was traveling south and hit the pony crossing the road. Matil parked his truck to report the accident, leaving the pony lying in the road. A motorist, Glenn Baker, 21, of Aliquippa, Pa., unaware of the animal roadblock, came along and struck the pony again. His car was moderately damaged.

James H. Fitzsimmons 25, of Minerva was cited for driving at a speed excessive for road and weather conditions after a mishap Monday at 10:50 a. m. on Route 9, two miles south of Salem.

State police said Fitzsimmons

Testimony Continues In Civil Rights Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Carl E. Sanders of Georgia testifies before one Senate committee and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy before another today on civil rights legislation.

In the House, representatives of major Negro organizations had an appointment with Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., to urge inclusion of a fair employment practices provision in the administration's omnibus civil rights bill.

Sanders was called before the Senate Commerce Committee, which is holding hearings on one part of the seven-point package—a bill to require desegregation of stores, restaurants, hotels and other private businesses serving the public.

Along with Sanders, the fifth Southern governor to testify on the measure, the committee was to hear from Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson of Mississippi.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, which called Kennedy back for additional questioning, is proceeding at a far more leisurely pace with hearings not only on the public accommodations provi-

No New Plans Expressed In JFK's Letter

Secretary of State To Sign Partial Test Ban Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expressed strong doubt today that Secretary of State Dean Rusk's forthcoming talks in Moscow will become a prelude to a summit conference.

They said Rusk will carry a letter from President Kennedy to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, but it is expected to be only a reply to the message Khrushchev sent to Kennedy via Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman.

Khrushchev's letter, high-ranking sources said, expressed his satisfaction with the agreement to ban all nuclear tests except underground but did not offer any suggestions on further steps to ease East-West tensions.

Kennedy's reply is expected to express similar feelings without attempting to break new ground.

State Department officials denied any thought is being given to a meeting between Kennedy, Khrushchev and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain.

That possibility was mentioned by Lord Hailsham, British negotiator at the test ban treaty talks in Moscow.

Officials here pointed to Kennedy's remark at a press conference July 17 that "there is no evidence that a summit is indicated or needed."

Also, U.S. officials don't believe Khrushchev himself wants a summit meeting now.

Rusk is scheduled to leave

Miss Keeler's Negro Lover Is Set Free

LONDON (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeal today freed one of Christine Keeler's Negro lovers, Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon, from a three-year prison sentence given him on a charge of assaulting the 21-year-old call girl.

The chief justice, Lord Parker, reversed the conviction on the basis of new evidence, including a 10-hour tape recording made by Christine while she was high on marijuana.

The chief justice did not make the new evidence public.

Gordon, 31, a Jamaican jazz singer, was freed after a nine-minute hearing. Lord Parker said his court had no jurisdiction to retry the case on fresh evidence and, "in many ways unfortunately, there is no provision for a new trial in such cases."

"But the court certainly thinks that if this evidence had been called," the chief justice continued, "the jury may have had a doubt in the matter."

Gordon was convicted last month of beating up Christine on April 18.

Seven weeks later she became the center of Britain's biggest political scandal of the century, when War Minister John D. Profumo resigned from the House of Commons and from Prime Minister Macmillan's government. He confessed he had lied to Commons in denying having had an affair with Christine.

Another casualty of the Profumo scandal, socialite osteopath Dr. Stephen Ward, is on trial on charges of operating a stable of prostitutes in which Miss Keeler and her chum, Marilyn (Mandy) Rice-Davies, 18, were star performers.

Ward's case is expected to go to the jury today or Wednesday.

Weather Outlook

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A small high pressure system centered over Lake Michigan early today will dominate the weather over Ohio for the next day or so.

Skies cleared over most of the state Monday night. The only remaining clouds were in extreme along the Ohio River valley.

Some temperatures from around the state at daybreak were Columbus 59, Cincinnati 62, Dayton 58, Chesapeake and Marietta 68, Toledo 56 and Cleveland 61.

Fair, less humid weather is expected to prevail over Ohio today and tonight. The fair weather probably will extend into Wednesday for most of the state, but there is some chance of a few isolated showers in the central and southern portions by Wednesday afternoon or evening.

Wife Files Suit Against Lost Pilot

ALLIANCE — The wife of an Alliance man missing since June 3 when a plane carrying him and another man disappeared near Beckley, W. Va., has asked for a court action to appoint a receiver to control his property.

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Pellizzari, 126 E. Maryland Ave., Sebring, brought the action in Stark County Common Pleas Court against her husband, B. Ernest Pellizzari, 336 E. Prospect St., Alliance, pilot of the missing plane.

Pellizzari, 51, and Edward Beltrami, 50, of 1503 Aldon Ave., Alliance, have been missing since their plane made its last radio contact with a Charleston, W. Va., airport at 9:30 p.m. June 3. They had been to Florida and were returning to Alliance.

Mrs. Pellizzari, in a court petition filed yesterday, asks that a receiver be named to operate his business, the Alliance Welding Co., to pay off the debts or to reduce the business to meet these obligations.

She said the business, an electric welding operation, is endangered by the threatened attachments from creditors.

She said she filed a divorce action against her husband in Mahoning County and a restraining order was issued against his selling, transferring, encumbering or disposing of any of the property. But, her petition said, that contrary to the court order, he transferred, secreted or disposed of $12,500 in which she has half interest. She said she doesn't know where the money is.

Reporter Finds Many Changes Since Stalin Days

Moscow 'City on the Move'

EDITOR'S NOTE—In the following story, John M. Hightower, Associated Press Pulitzer Prize-winning diplomatic reporter, compares the Moscow he saw in 1947 to the Moscow of 1963 after a recent visit.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

LONDON (AP) — In Moscow, thousands of people gather around Red Square early in the morning. All day long under the hot summer sun they form long lines to tramp solemnly through Lenin's air-conditioned tomb and to gaze at the yellow-walled palaces and golden-domed churches of the Kremlin.

They come from all over the Soviet Union and from foreign countries by plane, train and bus. One official told me 50,000 persons from the United States alone might visit Russia this year.

The place they seek out first is the wine red marble mausoleum where the waxen remains of the Soviet Union's first ruler are reverently displayed. The Lenin tomb has been a Communist shrine for a generation and exerts a mystical attraction for Russians.

Just beyond, enclosed within its massive crenelated walls, lies the Kremlin, the ancient and the modern center of Muscovite power. The astonishing thing to one who was last in Russia in Stalin's day is that the gates of the Kremlin stand open to visitors.

These open gates form one of the symbols of the change that has come over Moscow since 1947 and still is going on. There are others.

Automobiles and trucks speed along the main streets in noisy clusters. Store windows are full of goods though variety is small and the price usually high. Hair-dressing shops for women seem to be a feature of every shopping district.

Television aerials sprout from the roofs of many apartment buildings. Dozens of new buildings are going up on the outskirts of the city.

This reporter was previously in Moscow in early 1947 to cover a conference of foreign ministers. The sense of oppression emanating from the Kremlin lay heavily over the city then.

Times were hard so soon after the war, and food, clothing, and housing were scarce.

The streets were rough and many were full of holes. Few cars were to be seen. There were not enough buses. The subway was Moscow's proudest boast. The sides of beef and legs of lamb hanging in shop windows were wax models.

But the real reason for the lined faces and furtive glances of the men and women in the streets was fear of Stalin's secret police. That terror is gone.

Tourists are welcome in Moscow now and they can see much more than the Kremlin. But the Soviet capital is still a long way from becoming the Paris of the East.

There is much red tape. The official travel agency, Intourist, collects payment in advance for the room you will occupy and the meals you will eat. Americans are booked in for "deluxe" service at $35 a day for one person and $50 for two. The cost also covers a sightseeing plan for which a car and interpreter are furnished three hours each day. The visitor is assigned a hotel, sight unseen. Service in the restaurants is slow and ranges from poor to rude.

During our 10 days in Moscow, my wife and I lived in a friendly downtown hotel assigned by Intourist. It offered an excellent view of a construction project across the street, where an addition to a children's department store was being completed.

Women and men worked side by side at hard labor.

Moscow is humming with construction and repair work of all kind. Even many church buildings are being repaired. The churches usually are converted into museums by the militantly atheistic government. A few are open for worship.

All food stores appeared to carry the same lines of merchandise at the same prices, usually high. The same is true of clothing and other shops.

Some things are cheap by Western standards. A family has to pay only a few rubles a month for an apartment. A woman can get her hair done for less than a ruble and hairdressing salons are numerous. Books are inexpensive and book stores appear to be more numerous than any others.

The strongest impression we brought away from our 10-day visit in Moscow is that of a city on the move, caught up in a turbulent uneven growth. In some ways it is like a huge, dusty, overcrowded peasant village turning into a metropolis overnight. It is the nature of this rapid change that you can see modern water trucks washing the streets while wrinkled old women in worn blue coats sweep the sidewalks with primitive brooms made of birch twigs.

Berlin Boots and Saddle
Mr. and Mrs. Elden Maris were hosts to members of the Berlin Boots and Saddle 4-H Club Wednesday.

Carol Kile and Cheryl Barnett will have charge of a "share the fun" program. Plans were made for a rodeo Aug. 11 at Canfield Fairgrounds. A dance will be held Aug. 3.

Next meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. Aug. 7 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Spencer.

Greenford Silver Spurs
Eight members of Greenford

Silver Spurs 4-H Club were present at a meeting Thursday at the home of Susan Gregg of 767 Benton Rd.

Self-evaluation cards were distributed by Chuck Withers, president. They are to be turned in at home visits Aug. 12.

A trail ride was planned for 2:30 p. m. Aug. 4 at Greenford Park.

Next meeting will be at home of Dwain Kale of RD 4, Salem.

Goshen Good Growers

Earl Martig was host to 12 members of the Goshen Good Growers 4-H Club recently. Jack-ets were distributed and plans for a wiener roast were made.

Baseball provided the recreation. Mrs. Martig served refreshments.

Next meeting will be Aug. 6 at the home of James Hilles of RD 1, Beloit.

MONEY FOR MISSIONS

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Contributions to Catholic mission work through its principal agency increased last year to $22.9 million, a rise of nearly $1 million, the Sacred Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith announced.

Plentiful Vegetables to Reflect Lower Food Prices

Prices of vegetables will appear lower on local markets this week, the consumer service of the County Extension Service reports.

Sweet corn is available in good volume although lack of sufficient rainfall in some areas has affected the crop. Some growers report excellent prospects for corn, others are doubtful if their crop will be up to expectations. One northeastern Ohio grower reports pumping over 30 million gallons of water in June and July to irrigate his crops of corn and potatoes.

OTHER VEGETABLES from both local and shipped sources available at reasonable prices this week are snap beans, cabbage, beets, carrots and celery.

Other selections at reasonable prices include summer squash, radishes, lettuce, greens, cucumbers and tomatoes, like corn, are later than usual from local sources.

Tomatoes in quantity for canning purposes should be rather plentiful by the middle of August. With the southern crop of peaches now in the final stages, supplies of this fruit are now coming from Virginia, West Virginia, and New Jersey, with Michigan and New York shortly to enter the picture. Supplies are much less than normal from the northeastern states, Ohio having virtually no peaches this year.

THE FIRST OF THE early varieties of apples now available signal the beginning of the new apple crop. These early varieties, such as Transparent, Red Birds, and Lodis are especially well suited for applesauce. These kinds of apples are not good keepers and should be used quite promptly after reaching maturity.

Cantaloupe from the southwestern states which have held up in price most all summer are now being supplemented by supplies from Indiana. These Ohio valley melons have a distinct odor and taste commonly associated with home grown melons.

There is little price change this week on prices of fresh meats. Pork is at the normal seasonal high point in price. This usually happens during midsummer. Many of the cured pork cuts, picnics, ham portions, bacon are especially popular this week for store promotions.

With the demand for steaks quite high, retail sales of some of the longer cooking cuts have been quite slow. Consequently there are a number of money saving choices available. These include chuck roasts, chuck steaks, ground beef and others.

Two economical choices this week include broilers and fish fillets. With broiler production again headed up, this item will stay on the best seller list for some time to come.

Can't Very Well Be Helped

Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes went on record in Miami at the outset of the Governors Conference with an opinion it shouldn't be used as a sounding board for presidential booms.

"It is time that we stop, take stock and evaluate the Governors Conference, gauge what the conference is for and what should be accomplished," he said. "It should not be a testing ground for presidential candidates. It should not be used as a launching pad."

This would be quite a trick if it could be pulled off. The conference is in its nature the essence of politics, being composed entirely of politicians. No matter what the governors who attend it might want it to be, as politicians they can be sure it will be political.

If one or more of them happens to be under discussion as presidential timber, moreover, it will be frenziedly political. The news media will make sure of that by the questions asked and the points of interest stressed. Whatever the value of the shop talk at the conference may be, the image the outside world will see is bound to be an image of politics—and why shouldn't it be?

This country is run by politicians. Every public action is made possible by politics. If all practicing politicians disappeared overnight, their places would be taken immediately by outsiders, who thereupon would become "politicians."

Gov. Rhodes is, of course, a politician. His record reveals he is an able one—able enough to be discussed as a presidential possibility himself, though he has been in the governor's job only since last January.

But this shouldn't be mentioned while the governor is in Miami. He is there to exchange ideas and expertise on administrative problem, not political possibilities. That's politics, too. Isn't it?

Everybody Hopes For the Best

We have no idea what the box score on the Kennedy cabinet will look like by the end of the first game of what the President hopes will be a double-header. But the departure of Postmaster General J. Edgar Day for a law firm partnership is a pointed reminder that in cabinet-teering nothing is forever.

As all recent presidents have had occasion to point out, an incoming executive puts together the best governing team he can lay his hands on and hopes for the best.

Most of the cabinet appointees will be little more than casual acquaintances. Many will be total strangers. Some will be competent. Many will be mediocre. A few will be knaves and misfits.

For reasons like these, even President Kennedy's harshest critics did not protest too strenuously when he said his brother, Bobby would be his attorney general. The advantages of having a confidential relationship with this key cabinet officer were too obvious to invite criticism for wanting to have them.

Postmaster General Day, unlike most of his predecessors, was not the Kennedy administration's presiding political genius. He had been associated in law with Adlai E. Stevenson and in California politics had backed Gov. Edmund G. Brown. But he was primarily known as a businessman, and it was in this capacity that he accepted appointment as postmaster general.

It was in this capacity also that he served as postmaster general; he tried to put postal operations on a more efficient basis.

for coming up with answers to questions the parties concerned have been unable to answer.

The best day it ever had, the U.S. government was not inspired enough to cope with the dilemma of the railroads' work rules dispute. There never has been an industrial deadlock the government was able to break with an inspired solution.

Far from being inspired, its solutions always are grimly expedient; nothing else can be expected. Yet when they turn out to be that way, government is jumped on by everybody displeased with the outcome.

It is as though the great American custom of baiting the umpire had been broadened into shifting to Uncle Sam the blame for our inability to get along with one another, then had added insult to injury by accusing him of nibbling into places where he didn't belong.

Happy Birthday!

Financial institutions like the First National Bank, which is currently celebrating its 100th anniversary, play an important role in the life and growth of a community like Salem.

It is not unusual then in reviewing the progress and stability of First National during the past century to find that its services to the general public, business and industry have been closely linked with the community's growth from a small town to a thriving city of nearly 15,000 persons. Historical record show that the bank, the 16th oldest National bank in the United States, has been open continuously on the same downtown corner for the past 100 years, yet the firm's quarters today are as modern as any banking house in America.

Happy Birthday to the directors and officers of the First National!

Letter From Max

By Martin R. Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

Did you guys have an ole swimmin' hole when you were boys?

We did. Ours was in a muddy little river. The stream was lined with enough trees and undergrowth and the banks were high enough so we didn't have to worry about wearing bathing suits. Sometimes we did and sometimes we didn't.

There must be thousands of such swimming places scattered around the countryside even in this day of backyard pools and public pools with shiny immaculate tile dressing rooms and smooth, clean concrete ponds.

Our river wasn't anything like these modern pools, except it had water in it. The water was cloudy so you couldn't see more than a few feet underwater, the bottom was slimy, occasionally a small leech would get between your toes, a snake was seen once in awhile, after a heavy rain or in early summer the current was a hazard, and you had to be on guard against boulders and tree stumps.

FIRST THING we had to do every year on the first swim was to scout the little stretch of river to find out what the winter had brought us in the way of underwater rocks and trees, and to get the new dimensions of the swimming area, which changed with the river current.

From year to year the tiny "beach" grew larger or smaller, depending on the flow of the water.

Sometimes a vein of clay would be exposed on the far bank and this invited efforts to make a slide into the drink. Hours could be spent rearranging the clay to fit our haunches and carrying water onto it to make it slippery.

There was always talk about the river being polluted but we never heard of anyone getting sick from swimming in it.

One of the sources of pollution was reported to be a paper mill several miles upstream which dumped chemicals into the water, preventing any fish, except a few little minnow-types from living in the water. There were some small crabs, which we bothered more than they did us.

One fellow in our crowd was a fanatic about insisting on celebrating the end of the school year by going swimming the last day of school. Sometimes it was pretty chilly.

CONSIDERING everything, we were very fortunate our little crowd never had any serious accidents, not even any minor ones that are remembered.

Nobody ever drowned, or anything like that, possibly because one or two in the group were excellent swimmers.

If you should happen to want to see the place now, here is what you do:

You take that divided highway that cuts across the valley and just as you go over the bridge you look to the left and you can get a glimpse of the ole swimmin' hole.

If anybody ever went for a dip there now without a bathing suit they would get arrested for indecent exposure.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Churchmen Pressure Government In Racial Issue

By DAVID LAWRENCE

There's supposed to be a "wall of separation between church and state" erected under the Constitution. At least so the Supreme Court of the United States has said but something happened in Washington last Thursday which indicates that the wall apparently bars entry from only one side.

While the government cannot direct what prayers, if any, shall be used in the public schools or institutions, the government presumably can be directed by the churches as to what laws shall be passed on any subject.

Whether it is in the field of "Conscience" or "commerce," the principal religious organizations of the nation now assert the right to interpret these words for themselves and to take part in the pressures being exerted in the lobbies of the capitol to secure the enactment of certain laws barring racial discrimination.

Spokesmen for the three big national organizations of churches—Catholic, Protestant and Jewish—have just told Congress that all forms of racial discrimination should be abolished by law.

Three committees of Congress heard the arguments presented by the churchmen dealing with proposed legislation on "civil rights" in respect to retail stores, restaurants, hotels and motels as well as discrimination in employment in various businesses, whether governmental or private.

IN WHAT was described by the church sponsors as "an unprecedented and indeed historic event," a formal statement containing identical words was read before each of three congressional committees.

A Catholic clergyman representing the National Catholic Welfare Conference appeared before a Senate committee and said he spoke for his own and the two other church groups—the National Council of Churches and the Synagogue Council of America.

The same declaration was read before another Senate committee the same day by a Jewish rabbi, who, too, testified that he spoke for all three organizations.

A Protestant clergyman likewise presented the same statement before a house committee in behalf of the three church groups.

The declaration said in part: "The religious conscience of America condemns racism as blasphemy against God. . . .

"Major religious bodies hold simply that God created all men regardless of color, race or national origin, with equal rights and dignity.

"They affirm that differences among individuals stemming from such factors as heredity, education, cultural background and opportunities do not in any way affect basic human rights. Thus they have specifically condemned racial discrimination, segregation and prejudice as incompatible with the principles of faith in God."

But which church, if any, is to determine authoritatively for Congress what are the "principles of faith in God?"

Although the three major church groups can send clergymen to the committees of Congress to tell them, in effect, that unless they pass certain laws, they will be violating the "principles of faith in God," two atheists from Maryland recently persuaded the Supreme Court of the United States to rule that children in the public schools should not be allowed to pray or to express even in the vaguest terms their support for the "principles of faith in God." Spokesmen for various Christian and Jewish church groups welcomed the ruling.

SO THERE appears to be a one-sided wall of separation between church and state. These controversies have not been confined to religious questions. Thus the Social Action Department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference appealed in a public statement in 1947 to President Truman to veto the National Labor Relations Act passed by Congress. He did so, but it became a law anyhow as both houses overrode the veto.

This correspondent at the time called attention to attempts by this and other church groups to tell the government what laws should be enacted whether or not they touched religion. For nearly every subject can be rationalized as in some way related to "morals" or conscience.

There has been as yet no referendum taken among the members of these churches throughout the country—approximately 116 million according to the 1961 figures—to determine how a majority feel about the asserted right of the church organizations to speak for them on matters of legislation.

Will some individuals risk "excommunication" if they take a dissenting view?

The campaign of some of the church organizations goes beyond mere statements to congressional committees.

A commission of the National Council of Churches, a leading Protestant organization, has just issued a public appeal for 40,000 members to take part in person in the "March of Washington" on Aug. 28. Many ministers, white and Negro, have already participated in the "demonstrations" in different parts of the country, and some have been arrested for disturbing the peace.

THE REAL significance of all the new developments is that there may be a movement started to permit intermarriage. What people in the South have always feared is that enforced social relationships between Negroes and whites of both sexes would eventually bring about intermarriage on a wide scale in America. This, to be sure, is at the root of the problem of the integrated school and is responsible for much of the opposition to mixing of races or social relationships in eating places, hotels and housing facilities.

The expressed position of the churches today on racial discrimination could lead logically to a legal sanction of intermarriage or at least a declaration that for a state to forbid it is "a blasphemy against God."

Urges Bypass Cooperation

Again the Pigeon Road is facing the problem of having the relocation of Route 45. We had the same problem about 3 years ago in which a hearing was held and the results were not in favor of the proposed location.

Why can't the people of Salem city and Perry Township work together for a good southern bypass around Salem? It seems as though we are working against each other. This is a problem that does need solved but why should the traffic be pushed from one location to another just to get it out of the city.

We need a good Route 45 bypass but not over the Pigeon Road, Granite and Pine Streets, in order to have four highways meet in the same location. This section is already a busy one and always has been, so why would we want to add more traffic to it? This would not solve our problem.

If Salem wants to unload this burden of traffic from its streets, it should ask City Council, county commissioners, the civic leaders, and everyone to work together on this project. Everyone working together should be able to propose a good, safe and permanent Route 45 bypass south of Salem.

The State Highway Dept. has plans now on the drawing board for a southern bypass, so let's go after it.

Self-Help Experiment

By VICTOR RIESEL

PANAMA CITY.

Those who make a fetish of socking the rich should come along with me to the fishing village of El Farallon. There you will find the have-nots of all the have-nots. But there, too, you will discover the poorest fishermen helped out of their poverty by the wealthy businessmen of provided—but always on a long term repayment basis.

THE FISHERMEN began to put out to sea. As they increased their catch four and fivefold, they began making payments on the equipment. They have 11 new boats lying on the beach. But they are putting only five out to sea until the returns can finance motors for the other boats.

Soon, in similar ANDE fashion, the villagers will construct an ice making plant and a refrigeration building. Then they'll really be in business.

Not only will they profit there on the shore—but their underfed countrymen in the interior will gain. There always has been a lack of proteins within the interior. Meat is scarce. Now the fishermen of El Farallon are sending their foods of the sea into the interior, not only to increase the diet of their fellow Panamanians, but to balance it as well.

But the businessmen of ANDE are not neglecting the interior. There the "farmers" have been "planting" crops as their forebears did before Balboa first saw the Pacific. They would first clear a jungle patch. Then they'd burn the brush. Then they take a big stick and dig holes. Then they throw the seed into the openings by hand. They had never seen a plow.

NOW ANDE has gone up to Penas Chatas. A few plows have been brought in. As soon as the people learn how to use these plows and till the soil, the businessmen of the big cities will send in additional ones. Better crops will bring better and more abundant food and healthier cattle. As the fish come to the interior, the farm produce and meat will go towards the coast.

ANDE has not neglected the big towns. One ANDE member has an expensive home in Chorrera. He built an extension to it. Then he put in sewing machines and soon had 30 girls learning the seamstress trade.

In one of the worst slum sections, ANDE has built a combination cultural center and employment agency. Young people are welcomed to come off the streets. Delinquency has gone down. Incomes are up.

There are clothing factories in Panama visited regularly by ANDE members, many of whom are extremely busy executives. They seek out clothes which have a slight damage, or have been made into wrong sizes, or suits where the jackets and pants don't match but which are new and indeed usable.

The clothing is distributed to needy men-folk who then can go

LOOKING ABOUT for a starting point two years ago, ANDE found the starving Fishermen of El Farallon. The villagers, 90 miles up the Pacific coast from here, had only crude dugouts. They were forced to hug the shore. They fished as their ancestors had hundreds of years ago.

ANDE sent in some specialists in boat building. The fishermen were taught to construct their own craft right there on the beach. After these were built, the villagers had "launches" which could go miles out to sea where the big fish run in schools. No longer was it necessary to struggle for the few fish which swim near the coastline.

But the new craft needed power. So ANDE's executives arranged loans for the purchase of outboard motors. Now fishnets were required for the heavy rolling open water. These were also

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 15 years old and already a flop. I have no real friends although a lot of people pretend to like me. I get invited places but only because people feel sorry for me.

I have a fair figure and my mother says I can buy all the clothes I want, but my taste is terrible. I hate to shop because the clothes I go crazy over in the store look awful when I get them home.

I can't do anything well because I'm a clumsy cow. I'm a lousy tennis player. I can't swim and I hate to dance. My voice is so screechy the choir teacher has asked me to just move my lips and not try to sing with them.

I always say the wrong thing and laugh at the wrong time. Please help me before I start high school in September. —MISS NOTHING.

Dear Miss: Those who think too well of themselves are a pain in the neck. Your problem is the reverse and equally unattractive.

It's a drag to hear people forever running themselves into the ground. Among other things it indicates that they think people are paying more attention to them than they actually are. Get out of the habit of tuning in on yourself 100 times a day. Turn your thoughts outward — toward others. After having done your best—whether it's tennis, swimming or whatever — forget your inadequacies and concentrate on something else.

Warning to Widows

Dear Ann: You might call this letter "A Warning to Widows: Stay in Your Own Home."

My husband died four months ago and my daughter and son-in-law insisted that I sell my home and come live with them. I was grief-stricken, lonely and confused when I said "yes." It was the biggest mistake I ever made.

My house is gone, my furniture is gone and I'm a guest in someone else's home. My teenage grandchildren are disrespectful and make me feel as if I am in the way. To hear them talk I wonder how I could have lived so long and learned so little.

I was once a friendly, pleasant person but now I feel like a useless, sour old woman. I gave up everything dear to me and I really didn't have to. Please tell other widows to stay where they are—even if it's a single room. I wish I had.—NOT HAPPY.

Dear Not Happy: If you feel a single room would be better, why don't you find one?

Some mistakes are beyond repair but this one can be remedied and I hope you do it promptly.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

100 Couples at Sevakien Dance

One hundred couples attended the "Roaring 20's" dance at Sevakien Lake Saturday.

Dancing was under the stars with music furnished by Kenny Monroe and his Dixieland Band who also presented a floor show and led the dancers in a song-fest.

Arrangements were handled by Dr. and Mrs. Dan Kibler, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beckwith and Mr. and Mrs. Duber Miller.

Everett Dennison was in charge of the public address system and piped the music into the clubhouse. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook were in charge of tickets, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Easton and Joan, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bush, were in charge of refreshments.

Waitresses were Misses Barbara Cook, Dianne Broomall, Janice Roberts, Linda Bush and Mary Ellen Muskini. Mark and Mike Malloy served soft drinks.

William Readshaw is chairman of the dance and social committee.

Protestant Men's Picnic Set Friday

The Organization of Protestant Men expects to feed a large crowd at their second annual Family Fish Fry to be held Friday at the Canfield Fairgrounds exhibition hall between 4:30 and 7:30 p.m.

Arthur Stockstill, general chairman of the affair, announces that there will be entertainment by high school bands and clowns will give favors to the children.

The O.P.M. Chorus under the direction of Doug Everett will lead group singing. The cooking will be done by members of the Aut Mori Grotto organization with James Irwin in charge.

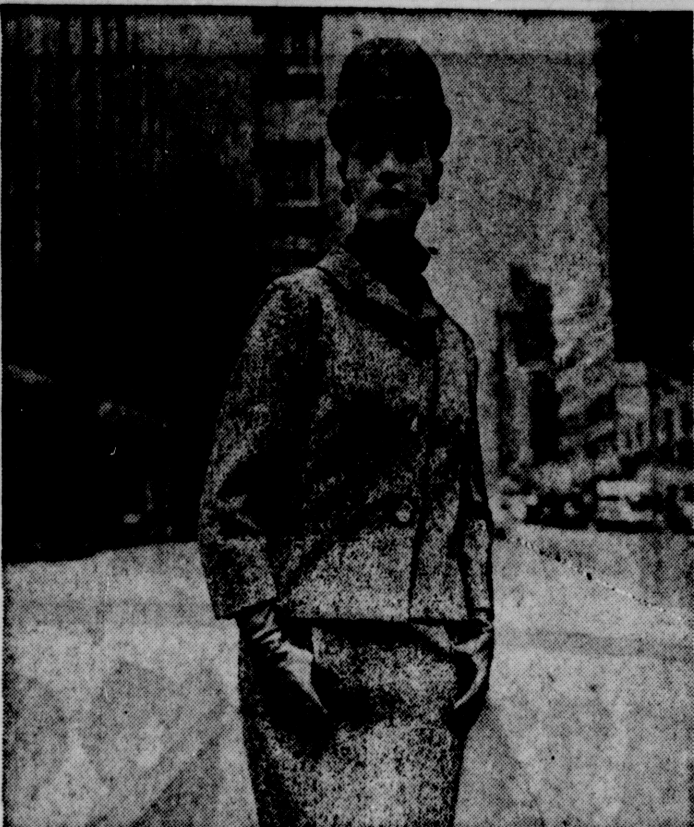

DIES AFTER CRASH

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tim Crotty 13, whose bicycle collided with an automobile on Oak Street July 23, died Monday in Children's Hospital.

TUBE SHAPE FROM ITALY

A cerise-colored, tube-shaped, ruche-trimmed dress created by Maruccelli "Boutique" of Milan is displayed by model. Dress was one of those shown at the presentation of Italian fall and winter fashions being held in Florence, Italy, this week.

EVERYONE CAN BE SUITED with ease this fall. Suit fashions come in every style from sporty to dressy. Gold and olive Scottish moiré tweed (left) has semifitted jacket and funnel neckline. The skirt of this Monte-Sano and Pruzan design has front fold fullness. Wool, cotton and Orlon are blended in the red boucle tweed of the Hattie Carnegie suit (center). Round little hat is of same fabric as the suit. Charcoal gray double-knit jersey of Orlon and wool is used for the Oleg Cassini suit (right). Over-b blouse is done in orange, gray and white stripes.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Friends: Let me inform all of you what the consensus among our readers is when it comes to keeping bread!

Ninety-nine and one-half percent of all the letters we received (on the proper way to keep bread from getting stale) said, "Be sure and put the loaf of bread in a plastic sack, bag, or wrapper before freezing or putting it in your ice box."

I tried it and it sure works. I do believe that when we store bread in our refrigerators (and so far as I know bread is not vacuum-packed) — that each time we open our refrigerator door we let more air in. Thus, ... drying out the bread.

The plastic bag method works. I tried it and I found my bread lasted much longer.

YOU HAVE nothing to lose.

Take the wrapper off a garment from the dry cleaners and wrap a loaf of bread in it and try this method ... for free!

It stands to reason and makes darn good sense. We tested this method by dividing a loaf of bread in half ... and wrapping part of it in a plastic bag from the dry cleaners. (They are so thin that they adhere to the half loaf of bread.)

We found this much better than the other half of the loaf of bread where we just folded under one end of the waxed paper it came in.

You've got nothing to lose. You have already paid for the garment bag ... Eh?

After all ... if we can save and utilize one slice of bread we have saved on our budget.

4-H Club

ASC Election Coming
L. L. Moff, chairman of the Mahoning Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, announced today that the annual election of ASC community committeemen and delegates to the county convention will be held by mail again this year.

Winona Jolly Bunch
Mrs. Steve Knizat of RD 2, Salem, was hostess to 13 members of the Winona Jolly Bunch 4-H Club at her home Friday.

Plans were made for a booth at the Lisbon Fair. Projects were judged by Mrs. Knizat and Mrs. Lee Hardgrove.

Next meeting will be Aug. 12 at the home of Janie Heinbuch.

Perry
Sixteen members of the Perry 4-H club met Saturday at the home of Fred, Bob, Denny and Devin Hippely.

Finished projects of members were inspected by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hilliard, advisers. The fair booth committee will meet soon.

Berlin Boots and Saddle
A record hop will be sponsored by Berlin Boots and Saddle 4-H Club from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Saturday at Lake Placencia near North Georgetown. The public is invited.

Proceeds will be used for the Camp Whitewood Building Fund.

The club will also sponsor a horse show Aug. 11 at the Canfield Fairgrounds for members of Columbiana and Mahoning County 4-H clubs.

Pine Lake Peppy Pals
Mrs. Ike Weber was hostess to 12 members of the Pine Lake Peppy Pals 4-H Club Friday.

Barbara and Carol Lippy gave a talk about events at 4-H camp. Projects will be judged tonight at the home of Mrs. Weber.

BOY IS CRASH VICTIM
WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Thomas Sinko, 14, of Youngstown was killed Monday in a two-car crash at the intersections of Ohio 5 and 87 near Kinsman. His father and brother were injured.

Ballots will be mailed to all known eligible voters on Friday, Aug. 23. Ballots are to be marked and returned or postmarked not later than Wednesday, Sept. 4.

A slate of nominees for membership on each community committee will be established by the present community committees. In addition the County Committee may make such additional nominations as are required or as it determines are desirable.

The slate shall also include the names of all persons nominated by proper petition. Such petitions must be signed by 6 or more eligible voters, nominating persons for membership to the community committee. These petitions must be received in the county ASC office not later than the close of business Friday, Aug. 9.

Persons nominated should be currently active farmers who are best qualified for community committee work.

HANDSOME FABRICS and SIMPLICITY of line are the keynotes of the new long fashions for fall evenings. Dinner dress (left) of nylon and silk has an oversize design in metalized yarn. The ankle-length, high neck and just-above-the-elbow sleeves date this Hannah Troy design definitely 1963. Quietly elegant evening dress (right) is by Nat Kaplan. White and gold brocade is of nylon and metalized yarns.

DEAR HELOISE: When I buy a pound of bacon I cut the strips in half crosswise, when I open the package. I find the short pieces of bacon fry better than the long strips. I place it in a cold pan, then fry it slowly. I find that this keeps it from spattering and burning in spots or leaving some places raw.

K.R.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband hates paper napkins. He insists on using cloth ones so ... one day I bought several yards of cotton seersucker and measured good napkins, hemmed the edges on the machine. It didn't take 20 minutes I find that these napkins do not need ironing at all.

I keep them in a dishtowel drawer. After washing, toss them in the dryer. They dry in a jiffy. Beautifully.

My husband is happy and so am I, now that I don't have to iron. All my neighbors are making them now.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: If you make your own dresses put your side zippers in upside down! You will find that they are a lot easier to zip — both open and shut — and they do not come open leaving a gap. Also if the tab sticks out, it will not rub your arms sore.

A FELLOW SEAMSTRESS.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a wonderful idea that I learned in cooking school.

I love broiled meat but up until now I avoided the broiler because of the goop that burned into the pan.

I tried lining the pan with foil but I invariably poked holes in it with a fork.

Now I broil until dooms day and not worry about the pan because as soon as I remove the meat from the pan I sprinkle the soiled broiler pan with powdered detergent and then cover with sopping wet paper towels. After dinner I simply wash the pan as usual except ... I save all the elbow grease!

Atila Artman From Turkey Local Visitor

Another new student at Salem High School from overseas this fall will be Atila Artman, 16, of Istanbul, Turkey, in whose home Rick Shoop, 17, of Salem visited last year.

Atila, although not an exchange student like some of the other students coming into the United States, is here by private sponsor. He hopes to be registered in school as a junior, but because of the difference in the Turkish and American school systems he may be enrolled in subjects of sophomore and senior levels as well.

He says Salem is bigger than he had pictured it to be. His hometown has a population of more than 1,200,000 but the buildings in Istanbul are no taller for the most part than are those of Salem, he observes.

Besides his father and mother, Atila's family includes two sisters, Betul, 6, and Figen, 4, and a brother, Ghengis, 11.

One thing Atila missed upon arrival here was his guitar which weight limits of air travel dissuaded his bringing. So Atila bought a guitar, and now the summer days of Atila include, besides swimming, a variety of sports participation, and getting acquainted with this city and its people, strumming a guitar to the accompaniment of Rick Shoop's piano music.

Rick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shoop of 364 W. 9th St., where the slim Turkish lad will be staying for the next year.

Wilbur W. Hall 20, student, and Susan E. Shaffer, 19, teletype operator, East Liverpool.

William C. Reich, 20, student, and Judy Schaeffer, 18, telephone operator, Salem.

Leonard Sheerer, 31, trimmer, Rogers, and Marilyn Sheerer, 27, waitress East Palestine.

Harvey Hawkins, 21, truck driver, and Erma Frances Kaminski, 19, Salem.

Bernard Beaver, 18, laborer, and Judith Perkins, 17, student, East Liverpool.

Frank Gibson 30, shipping clerk, Salem, and Eileen McGhee, 18, Kensington RD 1.

Oskar Diener, Arrives Here Swiss Pupil

"Adopted" by new parents for the year, Oskar Diener, 16, of Trogen, Switzerland, is now residing in Salem with Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers of the Damascus Road, while the Rogers' son, Raymond, is with Oskar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Diener in Trogen.

The student transfer is sponsored by the Inter-Christian Youth Exchange and the First Methodist Church.

OSKAR, WHO will attend Salem High School, is anxious for the school year to begin, having heard so much about the social life in American schools. He may take classes at all three grade levels.

Oskar will no doubt enjoy watching the Salem Quakers in action during the football and basketball seasons. Basketball is one of the sports he participated in at home, along with soccer, the Swiss counterpart of football.

In addition to soccer and basketball, personable Oskar spent his spare time at home at such a "relaxing" pastime as mountain climbing!

As should be expected, Oskar credits his on-time arrival at Salem to his watch — Swiss-made of course.

He has studied English in school and his fluency with the language improves daily, but as a safety measure, he carries a translation book for reference in case he comes upon a word that is completely unfamiliar.

Oskar has a 15-year-old brother back home.

History Today

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, July 30th, the 211th day of 1963. There are 154 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1609, Samuel de Champlain and a war party of Huron Indians defeated the Iroquois near Ticonderoga, N.Y. The action started the enmity of the Iroquois and the French and it was in this battle that they first saw firearms.

On this date: In 1733 St. John's Lodge in Boston was organized and was the first regularly chartered Masonic lodge in America.

In 1863 President Abraham Lincoln proclaimed protection of Negro troops from the Confederate Army.

In 1916, two explosions rocked Black Tom Island at Jersey City, N.J., causing extensive property damage.

In 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the bill authorizing creation of a women's reserve in the Navy.

In 1945 British aristocrat John Amery pleaded innocent in London to charges of treason.

Ten years ago: Indian Prime Minister Nehru said Red China's admission to the United Nations was essential to a stable peace following the end of the Korean War.

Five years ago: Cuban rebel leader Fidel Castro demanded withdrawal of U.S. Marines sent to Cuban territory to guard the water supply of the big U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

One year ago: At least 40 persons died in a series of earthquakes in west-central Colombia.

De Gaulle Eludes Question Concerning His Successor

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — French President Charles de Gaulle, in front of a splendid red silk curtain, talked to a news conference 80 minutes Monday and brushed off as if it were stupid one of the most important questions.

He was asked his ideas about a successor.

De Gaulle, 72, has another three years to go as president. When he took power five years ago, France, in political chaos since World War II, was teetering toward civil war. Politics were a nightmare.

After five years, he has failed to achieve lasting political reform or to provide for what comes after him. He once said: "After me, a mess."

Thus, while his whole career has been dedicated to the restoration of French grandeur and influence, he has done little to make sure France after him will have the stability necessary to endure.

For this reason, he gives the impression of a mystic trying to play a celestial slot machine. For years he has pulled the lever, seeking the right combination to fit his dreams: a new Europe under French leadership, a firm new relationship with Germany, perhaps a new relationship with the Soviet Union and an undeniable place for himself in history. It has eluded him.

But he acts and talks, as he did Monday, as if it were only a matter of time when somehow, perhaps because it's De Gaulle wishing it so, he will give the lever a magic pull and hear that tinkling, tumbling sound that means a jackpot.

Three years ago in Washington, to Congress and newsmen, he made easing relations with the Soviet Union "paramount."

That was just three weeks before Premier Khrushchev broke up the summit conference in Paris with De Gaulle, President Dwight D. Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

But last week Khrushchev finally agreed with the United States and Britain on a nuclear test ban in the atmosphere, outer space and under water. De Gaulle wanted no part of it. He said the world situation hasn't changed "one whit." He said France would not join.

Khrushchev last week talked of an East - West nonaggression pact. Maybe it's a pipe dream. But De Gaulle made it impossible by saying France wanted no part of that, either.

He said France will go on making nuclear weapons, unless the United States and the Soviet Union destroy theirs. This is so far in the future it's invisible. So France has a good excuse, by De Gaulle's reasoning, to go on making weapons.

On June 25 President Kennedy pledged in Germany — certainly for the benefit of France — to risk the destruction of American cities in defense of Western Europe.

Two days later De Gaulle told what he thought of this through his information minister, Alain Peyrefitte, who warned Europe against trusting its security completely and indefinitely to the United States.

He said no one knows what Washington's policy will be 10 years from now, after Kennedy's presidency, and mentioned that American neutrality in 1914 and 1939 do not inspire confidence now.

By this same reasoning of De Gaulle it would be impossible for the United States to trust France as an ally for in 10 years De Gaulle also probably will be gone and even he doesn't know what kind of France there will be then.

CHARGED IN MURDER

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Police say Earl F. Benson, 62, is charged with first-degree murder in the death of his wife, Marian, 52.

Police quoted Benson Monday as saying he quarreled with Mrs. Benson after she returned from work early Friday.

12-WEEK VACATION

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—About 1,800 Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. workers here, members of the United Steelworkers of America, soon will get a 13-week vacation every five years under a new contract.

Union officials contend the aluminum industry contract, negotiated last week in New York, is better than the steel industry's much-publicized vacation plan. Aluminum workers also may elect to take a 10-week vacation and get double pay for the other three weeks.

Deaths Funerals

Mrs. Henry Yaggi

Services will be held at the Deyo Funeral Home at 1:30 p.m. (E.S.T.) Wednesday in Columbus for Mrs. Martha Kloos Yaggi, 50, who died Saturday at 11 p.m. in the Methodist Memorial Hospital after a two weeks' illness.

Besides her husband, Henry, formerly of Salem, she is survived by a son, Henry Jr.; two daughters, Marsha and Elsa; her mother, Mrs. John Kloos of Columbus, and a sister, Mrs. Edward McCall of Columbus.

Burial will take place in Columbus.

Mrs. Walter Brandau

LISBON — Mrs. Delores E. Brandau, 51, of 103 W. Pine St. died Monday at 10 a.m., after becoming ill at 3 a.m.

Born May 27, 1912, in Middleburne, W. Va., a daughter of Albert and Rose Wells Ivers, she lived in Lisbon for the past 30 years. She clerked and kept books for her husband who ran a plumbing shop.

She married Walter Brandau in August, 1926, and he survives her in the home; one daughter, Mrs. Freda Tsagares of Lake Side, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Billie Wells, Wheeling, W. Va., Mrs. Gorget Schneider and Mrs. John Resinco, both of Chicago; one brother, Bruce Ivers of Wooster and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at the Eells - Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in the Lisbon Cemetery.

Born July 8, 1918, in Lisbon, he was the son of John W. and Florence McGaffick Barnes. On Oct. 16, 1945, he married Helen V. Wilkinson, who survives. He came to Washingtonville in 1945 and was a member of Joe Williams Post of the American Legion of Leetonia and a veteran of World War II. He was formerly a shovel operator.

Surviving besides his wife are one daughter, Miss Donna Mae of the home; his mother, Mrs. Florence Carter of Lisbon; two sisters, Mrs. Florence Dickey and Mrs. Alberta Hall, both of Leetonia; and two brothers, Herschel Barnes of Lisbon and Russell Barnes of Salem.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Woods Funeral Home in Leetonia.

Ellsworth

Seventy-five members of the Church School of the United Presbyterian Church held their annual picnic at the Walter Stitt Pavilion in Millcreek Park near Youngstown Friday. After supper, the children enjoyed two hours at the playground and Mrs. George Weamer and Jean Troutman provided games and contests for all class groups.

Seven members of the Ellsworth Extension Club, Mrs. Frank Zimmerman, Mrs. Earl Ressler, Mrs. Lew Corman, Mrs. Andy Baites, Mrs. Henry Jones, Mrs. Frank Mangus and Mrs. Hugh Bowman spent four days recently at Camp Whitewood near Windsor.

One hundred women from the northeastern group of counties participated in a program of crafts and inspirational talks along with vesper programs and campfires.

REV. FRED COCHRAN will not be in the pulpit of the United Presbyterian Church during the four Sundays of August and Rev. Charles Dusenberry of Youngstown retired, will be guest minister Sunday. Maurice Jones, superintendent of the Western Reserve School, will fill the pulpit Aug. 11. Church School will be at the regular hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston of Nineveh, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Bentley Carpenter of Graysville, Pa. were callers in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Fred Cochran.

Miss Virginia Burgoine has returned to her home after spending several weeks in the St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Youngstown, receiving treatments.

Mrs. Andrew Cain of Bailey Rd. is at her home after a stay in the Salem City Hospital.

CITED AFTER CRASH
John Lutsch, 44, of 937 Liberty St. was cited by police for failure to yield the right of way after he collided Monday at 3:55 p.m. with a car operated by Iwan Prychodzenko, 33, of Depot Rd.

Police said Lutsch pulled from an alley near 385 S. Broadway into the path of Prychodzenko, southbound on Broadway.

Court Gives Father $661 In School Case

LISBON—Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard late Monday ordered the Southern Local Board of Education to pay Ancil Jones of Salineville RD $661 for transporting his children 1.8 miles from his home to Route 644, where they were picked up by school buses.

Jones had filed his claim against the board for $1,341, asking for the payment of $2 a day from the board. The new Southern Local board offered him $1 per day but he would not accept it. He had not been paid anything since the 1958-59 school term.

At the hearing Monday the Southern Local school board claimed it was not liable for this transportation because this was a private lane. The court held they pay the $1 per day they offered, abused its authority in refusing to and that living on a private road did not absolve Southern Local board its obligation to transport such children to school, as they were doing this for two other families in different area.

The Southern Local board was ordered to pay to $661 and was instructed to furnish such transportation to pay the $661 and was instructed to furnish such transportation in the future or pay for the same, until otherwise provided by law or until further action in accordance with the law is taken by Southern Local board.

Jones had petitioned the Columbiana County Board of Education as co-defendants, but the court dismissed this petition against the county board. They voted that they believed the $1 the Southern Local board offered was a fair offer.

The suit was filed April 20, 1962, and on March 26, 1963, a preliminary trial was held and the court at that time ordered the plaintiff to file briefs.

Woman Files For United Board Seat

Six new candidates filed today with the County Election Board, seeking nonpartisan ballot spots for the Nov. 5 general election.

The new aspirants are: Shirley L. Whitacre of Salem RD for United Local School District Board of Education; Albert Trapnell, 520 W. North Ave., East Palestine, for Unity Township clerk; Harry M. Bryson of Salineville RD 1, for trustee, and Harry N. Randolph, 3 Lincoln St., Salineville, clerk, both in Washington Township and Mrs. Patricia McIntosh Sloan of Calcutta, for clerk, and Frank J. Mitcheson Jr., also of Calcutta, for trustee, both in St. Clair Township.

PLAN 4-H FAIR EVENT

LISBON — Twenty-seven members, parents and advisers attended the meeting Monday evening of 4-H members carrying saddle horse projects this year. The meeting was held at the Columbiana County fairgrounds, according to Tom Rudebeck, county 4-H assistant.

A. L. Weber of Butterbridge Acres, Canal Fulton, presented a "Fitting and Showing" training session for members who expect to show their horses at the Columbiana County Fair Aug. 22-26.

Matter of Fact

In English law, a boarding house cannot be considered an inn, for there is a distinction at law between a guest and a boarder. A boarder makes a contract to stay for a certain period and a landlord is free to accept or reject him as in any other party to a contract. On the other hand, an innkeeper has no right to select his guests or refuse shelter at any hour of the day or night.

Between 1917 and 1920, nearly 1,500,000 political refugees from Russia were thrown upon the charity of Europe. In an effort coordinated by the League of Nations, many countries of Europe accorded these Russian refugees particular privileges and gave them state aid. A so-called "League of Nations passport," recognized by over 50 governments, allowed the refugees to travel from one country to another in search of employment.

Officials discovered that hundreds of hastily dug graves were too shallow. Hygiene teams were ordered to spray them with disinfectant while deeper trenches were dug for mass burials.

Other workmen set up facilities to make life less terrible for those who must see to Skopje's end.

Power was restored in some parts of the city. Shower tracks provided limited bathing facilities. A new tremor flickered under the ruins of the city during the night. It brought down the weakened bulk of a two-story building.

While the tragedy lingered over Skopje, an earthquake Monday struck a village in southern Iran, killing five persons and injuring eight. All 352 houses in the village of Gahgum were destroyed or damaged, official Iranian sources reported.

The first tremors were felt shortly after noon, and most of the people were out of doors.

Pittsburgh Man's Trial About to Open
LISBON — Selection of a jury in the burglary and larceny of narcotics case against a Pittsburgh man began today before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

The defendant, John Ciesielski, 30, was indicted by the grand jury in June 1960 for burglary in May of the Peoples drug store in East Liverpool. He was apprehended in a chase by East Liverpool police on River road in which the getaway car of Ciesielski was wrecked.

During the time Ciesielski was out on bond he was arrested in Pennsylvania and sentenced to the federal penitentiary in Pittsburgh.

The trial is expected to last two days.

FINED IN LISBON
LISBON — Dennis Karl Baker, 36, Wellsville RD 1, received a suspended $5 fine Monday at a hearing before County Judge James MacDonald for failing to stop for stop sign. He was cited by the State Patrol.

Dirksen said he had made no effort to poll Republican senators and had no idea how they would vote on the agreement worked out by U.S., British and Soviet representatives. Treaty backers are wooing GOP support because ratification would require approval of two-thirds of those voting.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader, predicted the treaty will be ratified.

Humphrey said congressional mail indicates widespread popular support for it. And the White House reported Monday that more than 1,000 telegrams received since Kennedy's Friday night address and ran more than 12-1 in support of his position.

CONSIDERS FORECLOSURE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal referee in bankruptcy, Gail H. Butt, has taken under advisement requests for foreclosure permission from holders of mortgages on some properties of Certified Credit Corp.

Among the properties involved are Candlelight Lodge on Lake White (Pike County), the Dayton Monument Building and two Cincinnati properties.

With The Patients

Three Salem area persons who received injuries in separate miscellaneous accidents were treated yesterday at Alliance City Hospital.

Dalton Cameron, 82, of RD 1, Homeworth, was treated at 7:50 p.m. for a fractured left wrist which he suffered in a fall.

Eleven-year-old Wanda Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Higgins of Beloit, lacerated her left foot on a tin can and was treated at 10 p.m. Monday.

Robert Smith, 21, of RD 4, Salem, received lacerations of the right elbow which he cut on a milk bottle while working at the Purity Dairy at Beloit. He was treated at 4:20 p.m.

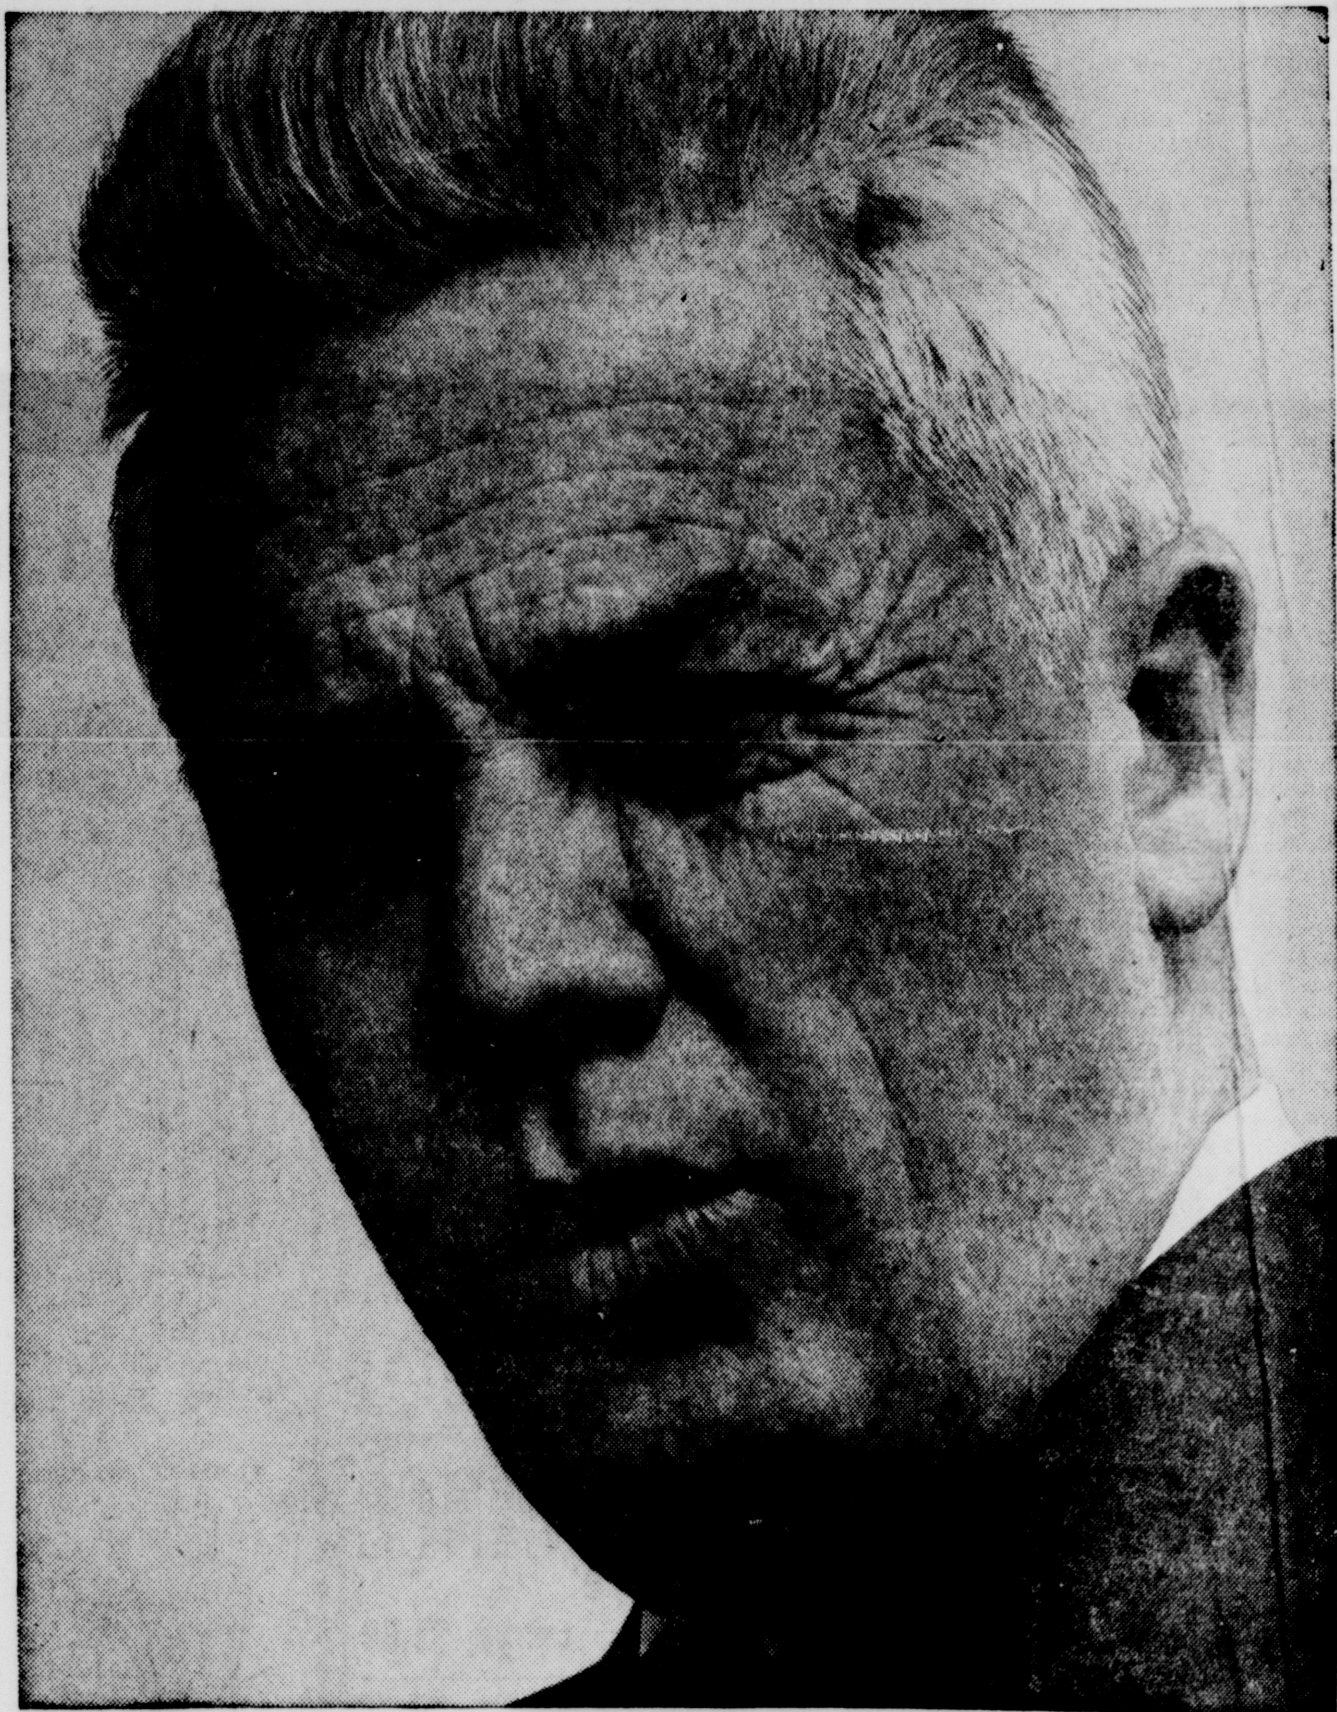

IN LISBON COURT

LISBON — Francis Ruhl, Lisbon RD 1, was given a suspended 30-day jail sentence at a hearing Monday before County Judge James MacDonald after he was found guilty of assault and battery.

He allegedly shoved Ronald Mowery, 316 E. Washington St., over some tools which Mowery claims were his but Ruhl allegedly kept because Mowery owed Ruhl some money.

You mean to tell me that Gas will cool as well as heat my house?

Yes, indeed! You can get a single, all-year Gas Air Conditioning unit that heats, cools, dehumidifies, circulates, ventilates and cleans the air in your whole home—silently, automatically, thriftily. All you do is set the dial for the temperature you want, summer or winter. Or, if you already have a forced-air Gas heating system in your home, you can convert it for summer air conditioning. Just add on a Gas central cooling unit; you can probably use the warm air ducts already in place. And remember, because a thrifty Gas flame does both the heating and cooling jobs, your operating costs stay low. Call your Gas Company soon for full information and for a free estimate on air conditioning your whole home with gas.

Palmer's 70 Beats Boros, Nicklaus In Western Open

Boosts PGA Earnings To All-Time $96,955

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—A bogey was worth $11,000 to Arnold Palmer in the strangest putting hole ever to confound golfing greats locked in a major tournament.

Arnie took the Western Open title and its accompanying check as a gift from Julius Boros and Jack Nicklaus in an 18-hole playoff Monday.

Suffice to say that Arnie won by shooting 33-70 over the demanding Beverly Country Club course and its par 36-5-71.

Boros, with 36-5-71, and Nicklaus, 37-36-73, each pocketed $4,450.

Palmer boosted his winnings to $96,955, giving him a shot at becoming the first golfer to win $100,000 in a season.

The playoff can be capuled on the par 3,205-yard 17th hole with its tricky, rolling green. Two successive birdies had helped pull National Open champion Boros into a tie with Palmer at the 16th, each with 61 strokes, while the Masters' and PGA king, Nicklaus, seemed left at the post with 63.

At the 17th, all used No. 2 irons off the tee.

Boros went over the green into the crowd and deep rough. Nicklaus stuck his shot five feet from the cup. Palmer pulled his into a trap on the left side of the green.

Palmer exploded from the trap and rolled 35 feet past the hole. Boros' chip was on the green but 40 feet short.

Boros putted three feet past the hole. Palmer putted four feet past. Nicklaus rimmed the cup and rolled nearly four feet beyond.

Palmer dropped his for a bogey 4. Nicklaus again missed, also taking a 4. Boros missed, getting a double bogey 5.

Two putts by Palmer and three each by the other two brought the match to the last hole with Arnie holding a one-stroke edge over Boros.

Nicklaus, was out of it.

Boros and Palmer were on the 596-yard 18th in three. Palmer missed a 12 footer and settled for his par 5. Boros had a sharp-breaking 7 footer and missed, also taking 5.

That was it.

100-Lap Race Scheduled At Sharon Track

HARTFORD — The second annual 100-lap invitational race for super-modified cars will be held on Wednesday night. Promoter Jim Novak expects the largest field of super-modified race cars ever to turn out for the big program.

The race program will be worth $3550 in prize money, plus the extra money that will be paid for leading laps. Thus far, lap money has been posted by Floyd Trevis, Frank Crash Auto Wrecking & Towing, R. E. Crash Scrap Iron & Auto Wrecking, Jack L. E. M. Ford Sales, Barris Auto Body & Repair Service and Sharon Speedway.

Novak says he hopes to have a field of cars representing at least four states, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan and West Virginia, representing the top racing talent in their districts to compete for the big cash awards and the trophy awarded to the winner.

Shamrock, Superior Pad Flying B Leads

Shamrock Lanes, gradually pulling away in the Thursday Division race, scored 8½ points to cushion its first place lead 89½-80 during action in the Flying B Golf League recently.

Rampaging Superior Wall Paper kept up its relentless pace and bulged its Friday Division lead to eight points over second place Penn Grill 89½-81½.

Duquesne is in second position in Thursday's bracket with 80 and Flying "B" trails in third 10 points back with 79½.

Dick Train carded a 37 for Shamrock Lanes. Don Hardy of Salem Music Centre, Dutch Linder of Aid Budget and Glen Otto of Salem Tool finished 38s and John Pozniko fired a 39.

Lincoln Machine is a distance third in Friday's 10 team 100 lap race with 69½ and Powder Puff is fourth with 68.

Jack Grace of Powder Puff took medalist honors with a one-under par 35. Flick Entriens of Franklin Market carded a 38. Shooting rounds of 39 were Ben Miglarini and Ed McLain, also of Powder Puff; Dick Boughton of Superior Wall Paper; Jim Griffith of Greene Oil, Bob Schaefer of Penn Grill and Dick Fisher of Lincoln Machine.

Pinkerton, Harding Win Golf Club Event

Ken Pinkerton and Glenn Harding fired a 13-under par 57 to take first place in the "partners best ball tourney" held at Salem Golf Club Sunday.

Joe Hiegel and Jack Rance, and Vince Moore and Joe Sehel-eimer finished in a two-way tie for second with 58s.

Browns' 9th Inning Home Run Paces Orioles To 2-1 Victory

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Heartbreaking losses for a pair of youngsters and a touch of luck for a veteran. It was that kind of a night on the American League pitching scene Monday.

Joel Horlen of the Chicago White Sox had his brilliant try for a no-hitter—and victory—shattered in the last of the ninth at Washington. Chuck Hinton's single with one out was the first Sen-hitter hit off the 25-year-old right-hander, recalled from the minors last week. Then Don Lock's two-out homer pinned Horlen with a 2-1 loss.

At Baltimore, rookie Mickey Lolich of the Detroit Tigers held the Orioles to one single through eight innings but in the ninth Al Smith singled with one away and one out later pinch batter Dick Brown smashed a homer and Baltimore won 2-1.

Old-timer Robin Roberts got after pitching the ninth for Washington.

Lolich, a 22-year-old left-hander, retired the first 11 batters, gave up a single in the fourth to Bo Johnson, then set down 14 more in a row before Smith batted for Roberts and singled.

Roberts allowed one Tiger hit in the first and one in the ninth, walked two and hit a batter. The only run off the 36-year-old right-hander was unearned.

Chance's no-hit bid with two out in the seventh when he looped a single to center, Woodie Held singled in the eighth for Cleveland's other hit. The big right-hander walked three and struck out 12.

The Angels pounded five Cleveland pitchers for 14 hits, getting six in their eight-run burst against loser Dick Donovan and Jerry Walker.

Spahn Gains 340th Win Of Career

Koufax Posts 17th As Dodgers Romp 6-2; Giants Nip Pirates

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Handy Sandy Koufax, performing a thorough clean-up job for the Los Angeles Dodgers, has pulled the National League leaders out of their longest losing streak in two months.

Koufax pitched a five-hitter and posted his 17th victory in a 6-2 decision over surging Philadelphia that ended the Dodgers' losing streak at four games and maintained their 4½-game bulge over the pursuing pack.

Winless for 13 days as the Dodgers struggled through their worst skid since early June, Koufax pitched smoothly if not spectacularly, with home run support from Tommy Davis and Willie Davis.

The 27-year-old left-hander has a 17-4 record — tied with Juan Marichal of San Francisco for the most victories in the majors. He is No. 1 in strikeouts with 195 in 194 2-3 innings and in complete games with 15 while maintaining a brilliant 1.89 earned run average.

San Francisco slipped past idle St. Louis into second place as Willie Mays hammered his second straight game-winning homer and gave the Giants a 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh.

In the only other NL game scheduled, Milwaukee's Warren Spahn posted his 340th victory, with homers by Hank Aaron and Lee Maye providing the power, 8-2 over Cincinnati.

Trailing 3-0 after two innings, the Giants closed the gap to a run on Chuck Hiller's third-inning homer and took the lead for good when Mays hit his 24th homer with two on in the fifth. The shot by Mays tagged Vern Law, 4-5, with the defeat and gave the victory to reliever Jim Duffalo, 3-0.

Spahn, slowed recently because of a sore elbow, picked up his first victory since July 7, checking the Reds on six hits. The 42-year-old left-hander, 13-5, was touched for homers by Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson. John Tsitouris, 7-4, started for Cincinnati and was a loser by the time he had pitched to four batters.

With one out Tsitouris walked Ed Mathews and Aaron and Maye followed with consecutive homers.

Copeland Hills Slates Second Annual County Golf Tourney

The second annual Columbiana County amateur golf tournament (medal play) will be held at Copeland Hills in Columbiana Aug. 24, with tee off time slated from 8 a. m. to noon and again from noon to 2 p. m.

Anyone interested in entering should contact the pro shop at Copeland or pick up an entry blank. More than 100 golfers participated in the event last year.

Deadline for entries is Aug. 21. Action will be held in four divisions Class "AA, A, B, and C."

In the weekly "scotch ball" event held each Sunday at Copeland, Opal and Eugene Ryan of Youngstown fired a combined 39 to take top honors.

Elizabeth and Glen Dicken scored the low net with a 48-15-33. Tony and Louise Pontuti of Youngstown, and Diane Scullion and Don Longshore of Columbiana tied in the blind bogey event.

Tom Ryan, 19, of Youngstown carded a 36, and Jim Mahon, 15, of Columbiana shot a 37 for the course's low scores during the past week. Natalie Miller, a left handed woman golfer, shot a 40.

In Saturday's two-man best ball tourney, Bernie Brogan and Tony Pontuti took first place with 37-38-75.

NO HIT — Tommy McDonald, fullback with Philadelphia Eagles, didn't make much of a hit with George Gabel, 1, during opening of the Eagles' Hershey, Pa., training camp.

Angels Dump Indians 11-0 Behind Chance's 2-Hitter

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians never had a chance Monday night against Los Angeles' 22-year-old Dean Chance, who fired a two-hitter after holding them hitless for 6-2-3 innings.

The big Ohio farmboy from Wooster struck out 12 and got more than enough runs in the third inning when the Angels exploded for eight runs. The last four came on a grand slam homer by Felix Torres.

The final score was 11-0.

Chance, who claims he gets better in the second half of the season, evened his record at 10-10.

Akron Girls Lose 4-2

To Rangerettes Squad

Akron AFL-CIO dropped a 4 - 2 decision to the Rangerettes of Elizabeth, Pa., then came back to tie the same outfit 2-2 in a twin bill at Kelley Field Sunday.

The Akron aggregation (15-7) which includes three Salem area girls will compete in the Women's State Softball Tournament beginning at Springfield Friday.

Harker Wins Pursuit

At Burton Speedway

Fred Harker, amateur driver, won the second pursuit and was third in a heat in the speedway races at Burton last Sunday. E. R. Pincombe was third in another heat.

Ken Suggett placed second in the helmet dash and finished fourth in the 25-lap feature.

The mid-season 50-lap championship race will be held at the Geauga track next Sunday.

Dean pitched 18 no-hitters last season at Northwestern High School, Wayne County.

The Angels pounced on Donovan (6-9) in the third inning. Joe Kopp singled to left, Chanos struck out trying to bunt with two strikes and then the next seven batters reached base.

Donovan left with the score 4 and two runners aboard. Jerry Walker came in and walked K. Hunt to load the bases. The Torres belted the jackpot ball over the right field fence.

Chance struck out every Cleveland batter except Al Clevinger. At least once, John Romano struck out three times and Max Alvarado went down twice.

Ken McBride (12-7), a Cleveland product and currently the ace of the Los Angeles staff, pitched tonight against the Indians Jack Kralick (10-9).

Harker Wins Pursuit At Burton Speedway

Fred Harker, amateur driver, won the second pursuit and was third in a heat in the speedway races at Burton last Sunday. E. R. Pincombe was third in another heat.

Ken Suggitt placed second in the helmet dash and finished fourth in the 25-lap feature.

The mid-season 50-lap championship race will be held at the Geauga track next Sunday.

Browns Have 4 Veterans As Linebackers

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—If line-backing is the key to good defensive football teams, the Cleveland Browns may be in good shape this season.

The Browns have four veterans back from last season—captain Galeen Fiss, Vince Costello, Mike Lucci and Sam Tidmore—plus a trio of fine rookies. They are Tom Goosby of Baldwin-Wallace, Stan Szurek of Purdue and Bob Butts of Ohio State.

But the big experiment these days in the Cleveland training camp at Hiram College concerns Jim Houston, who has become a linebacker after three campaigns as a defensive end.

Houston is the left side linebacker because Coach Blanton Collier wants more beef on that side, believing that most of the running plays go that way. The former Massillon and Ohio State star is 6-foot-3 and 237 pounds and is fast and aggressive.

Marilyn Russell Places 2nd In Softball Throw

Marilyn Russell, competing in girls events for 12 to 13-year-olds in the state Junior Champ track and field meet at Mt. Vernon, placed second in the softball throw with a heave of 148 feet, 10 inches.

Her fine effort gave the Salem team an additional four points and the unit finished with 40 points.

3 Teams Tie For 1st In Scotch Ball Event

Dick and Doris Boughton of Salem, Mary Ann Cameron and Dave Callahan of Salem, and Wanda Wilson and Bud Burrier of Salem finished in a tie for first place in a "scotch ball" event at Flying B course recently.

All three units finished with 44s. A total of 28 couples participated.

Womens Bowling Picnic Tickets Deadline Set

Deadline for making reservations for the Salem Women's Bowling Association annual picnic Aug. 7 at Arrowhead Lake Park in Columbiana is Saturday. Members should make reservations with the secretaries of the respective leagues.

Serving will be at 6:30 p.m. Members attending should bring their own table service.

Rifle, Pistol Event May Attract 15,000

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—The nation's biggest rifle and pistol shoot gets under way here next week on a mile-long system of shooting ranges.

Some 7,000 marksmen are registered for the National Rifle and Pistol Matches, and altogether some 15,000 persons are expected to pass through Camp Perry during the month-long program.

The entrants will be taking advantage of a government program to encourage marksmanship by providing training, ammunition and guns in connection with the annual competition.

The Army, Navy and Air Force will be represented at the meet, along with police departments and other civilian shooters. The meet is run by the National Rifle Association and the Board for Promotion of Rifle Practice under Government Sponsorship.

The pistol firing school opens Friday and the first pistol match is scheduled for Aug. 5. Rifle matches start the following week.

A highlight of the program will be a match Aug. 11 pitting Civil War buffs, with muzzleloaders, against top military shooters using semiautomatic rifles.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Some of my friends and very good customers from St. Patrick's Church in Leetonia want me to remind you all of their Festival this weekend, August 2, 3 and 4, which is Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

They are going to serve fish, ham and turkey dinners. Those people really know how to serve good meals.

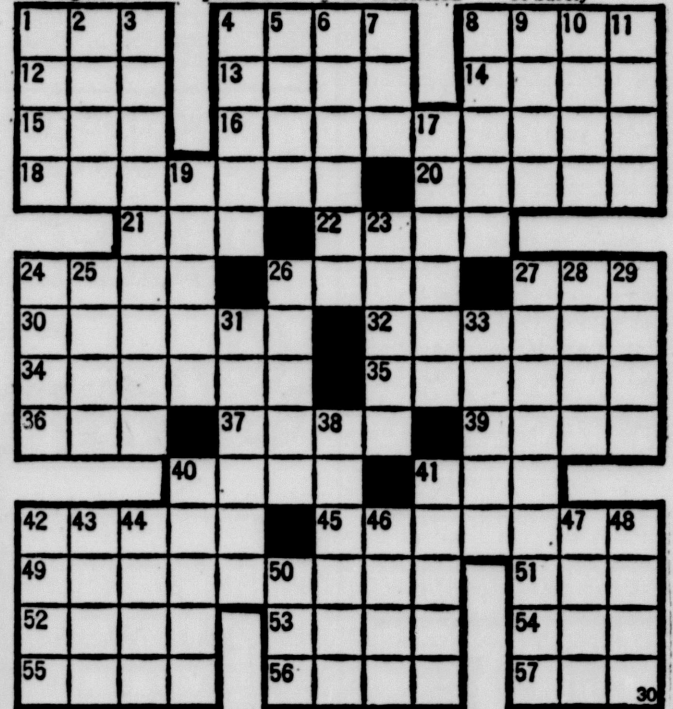

There will be dancing from 9 till 12 nightly.

NIAGARA IN STONE — Deep in Kentucky's Mammoth Cave visitors view what appears to be a 75-foot high frozen Niagara. This cave-onyx formation is the largest in this underground tourist attraction. Thousands of years have gone into the making of this Niagara in stone, the stalactites growing downward as water seeping from the ceiling leaves behind calcium carbonate it carried in solution.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Health Questions, Answers

Q—I was recently treated for hepatitis and was put on a diet with no fat. You have stated that fat should be included in the diet. Please comment further on this.

A—It is true that fats used to be restricted in the diet of persons with or recovering from hepatitis but now for all forms of hepatitis a balanced diet consisting of 75 grams of protein, 100 grams of fat, and 200 grams of carbohydrate is recommended. If a greater caloric intake is needed, the three essential elements should be increased proportionately. Fats should be restricted, however, if X-ray examination shows that you have a nonfunctioning gall bladder.

Q—What would cause a woman to bleed to death in childbirth?

A—Severe hemorrhage just before delivery may be caused by premature separation of the placenta. Another cause is the abnormal formation of the placenta in the lower part of the uterus blocking the uterine outlet. In a very difficult labor the uterus may rupture and cause a severe hemorrhage. Following delivery a small portion of the placenta is sometimes left behind. This always causes continued bleeding. The watchful obstetrician is trained to recognize all these complications in their early stages. If they are recognized early, prompt action will often save the mother's life.

Q—What are the aftereffects, if any, of Medrol? I have been taking this drug for allergy off and on for over two years.

A—Methylprednisolone (Medrol) is one of the steroid hormones that is related to cortisone. It is, however, much safer to use for prolonged periods than most drugs of this group. Long term usage should be undertaken only with careful supervision by your doctor. He can help you avoid the undesirable side effects. These include puffiness of the face, stomach ulcer, and bleeding under the skin.

Q—My young sister's face is deeply pitted and has dark blotches that won't go away. I read about chemo-surgery and wonder if it would help her.

A—Chemo-surgery is the application of cauterizing chemicals to the skin to destroy the outer layers. It is not without danger and should be undertaken only by a physician who has had wide experience in its use. It is most useful in removing wrinkles in older persons. For the removal of pitted acne scars in a young person surgical planing is a safer and more effective procedure.

Q—I use petroleum jelly regularly on my skin because it helps to combat dryness better than most other cosmetics. Since it is a coal tar product could long continued use lead to skin cancer?

A—Prolonged use of petroleum jelly has never been found to produce skin cancer or any other harmful result.

Here's How Ohio Congressmen Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — How members of Congress voted on recent roll calls:

Senate

On motion, adopted 59-23, to table and thus kill a Curtis, R-Neb., amendment to make a bill prohibiting additional foreign chanceries in residential areas of Washington retroactive to Jan. 31 and thus stop Russian plans for a new embassy in the Chevy Chase section. For — Lausche, Young, both Democrats.

House

On passage, 272-103, of bill to strengthen and speed programs for prevention of air pollution. Republicans for—F. Bolton, O. Bolton, Minshall, Schenck. Democrats for—Feighan, Hays, Kirwan, Seccrest, Vanik. Republicans against—Abele, Ashbrook, Betts, Bow, Brown, Clancy, Devine, Harsha, Latta, Mosher, Rich Taft. Not voting—Ayres (R), McCulloch (R) and Ashley (D).

CLERGYMAN IS SURE

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A Des Moines clergyman was asked by a federal tax official whether a member of the pastor's church had made a $2,000 donation to the church.

Said the clergyman: "I can't divulge the information. But if he hasn't, I can assure you that he will."

LEGAL NOTICE

ORDINANCE NO. 550201-56

Introduced by Mr. Alderman BEING AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING AND DIRECTING THE DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC SERVICE TO ENTER INTO CONTRACT WITH PRESSURE TAPPING AND WELDING SERVICE, INC. FOR THE TAPPING AND PLACING OF GATE VALVES IN WATER LINES LOCATED ON THE SITES OF THE WEST STATE STREET RAILROAD OVERPASS PROJECT AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SALEM, STATE OF OHIO:

WHEREAS, construction is proceeding with the West State Street Railroad Overpass project; and

WHEREAS, there are two (2) ten (10") inch water mains located under ground on the site of said project; and

WHEREAS, these said water lines do not have gate valves to permit their closing in the event of rupture caused by construction or otherwise; and

WHEREAS, there is an immediate danger of their being ruptured because of the construction of said overpass project.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SALEM, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1.
That the Director of Public Service be and he hereby is authorized and directed to enter into contract with Pressure Tapping and Welding Service, Inc. of P.O. Box 181, North Lima, Ohio, for the tapping and placing of gate valves in water lines located on the sites of the West State Street Railroad Overpass Project.

SECTION 2.
That the Director of Public Service be and he hereby is authorized and directed to enter into said contract without advertisement under the authority of Ohio Revised Code Section 735.051.

That this Ordinance is hereby determined to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety in the City of Salem and shall go into immediate effect for the reason that the supply of water to the citizens of the City of Salem is in immediate danger of being cut off and the repairs new installation set forth above are immediately necessary to preserve public health and safety. PASSED: July 2, 1963
